

Question 33:

A system with an airflow which is too _____ may produce high duct temperatures for heating in Winter.

Possible Choices:

low

high

Answer:

A system with an airflow which is too low may produce high duct temperatures for heating in Winter.